Lights! Action! Camera!

Lights! Action! Camera starts rolling as the title appears, "Scenes of 77". It's a unique movie, made up of its own time and settings. Each act is special, meaningful for everyone involved. It's about us and the way we were. So, just sit back and enjoy as the memories roll past you, for these are the "Scenes of 77".

Act I: The curtains open to the East Lobby and the projector begins, as a quiet voice narrates: It's the opening day of school and the students are returning. We run around excitedly to find what's changed and what's the same, to talk once again with old friends and teachers. There's relief to many that afternoon TA room has been dropped, but surprise to find that subject area fees will be charged this year. Mr. Jones announces the beginning of detention, everyone had something to say about that. After a while the excitement subsides and we settle into the routine of school.

The scene changes to Mr. Gabet's TA room and we hear him describing Zack's attempts at potty training when Gong, Ding, Ding- Ding-a-Ding, Thud. The morning announcements come over the air - delivered by those ace comedians Tony Hudson and Tony Wittwer. Theirs is a low budget news program and they write their own copy. "Cheryl Ridderheim and Barry Delagrance, your books are not in the office." "Mr. Shaw's fourth period class will meet today in Mr. Shaw's room, as scheduled." At least, no one ignores morning announcements anymore. The bell rings, fade out, as the students pass out of the room to their next class.

Act II opens with a series of vignettes of first period classes: a senior boy in the library, catching a few winks before beginning his day; Miss "B" timing laps in the gym "No cutting corners, you girls!" Then maybe a friendly little game of Speedaway or Warball; study center, with 100 students doing 200 different things, (nobody studies, it's not finals day) and Mrs. Osborn who has her detention notes handy, of course; and then a bunch of just regular classes like history, English or math. Oh well, Project Period's only 2 hours away.

Kids Everywhere

Act III is several hours later in the cafeteria. The noise is deafening. Kids are everywhere, talking. Many line up at the counter to buy their goodies for milk break or just to see what's on the menu for lunch. German club has their little donut stand up with swarms of donut fans milling around. Then, another bell and slowly the halls empty. Students go on to their next classes, one or two hours away from lunch. (Boy, can't wait til I'm a Senior, they never have to stand in long lines for their lunch -senior privilege and all that). After lunch just a couple more classes or nap time and then it's over for another day. Final announcements, bell, mass exodus. Buses lining the sidewalk fill rapidly as the students scramble aboard to get the seats they want. Juniors and seniors hurry to their cars to clear the parking lot before the buses begin to roll out. Some stay often for practice, or make up work, then home to study or to work, or to a friend's house to watch the new Mickey Mouse Club. Lights dim, a hush descends, day is done. Cut.

Sense Of Community

Act IV opens on a crisp early fall evening, lots of people, a bonfire, It's Homecoming -and everyone comes back for an evening of football and reunions, a sense of community. The football scene was repeated many times that fall, climaxing with a victory over arch- rival Woodlan. It was a dream come true for L.H.S. fans.

Next scene, it's snowing outside. Inside there are changes: set curfew times, and new dress styles like gauchos and boots. Action was provided by the incense bomber who hit time and again, setting firecrackers off in lockers and restrooms. He very narrowly missed causing serious injury and damage. No warning except the odor of incense when he was ready to strike again. And outside it was still snowing. The community had its share of disasters, too. Souder's Warehouse and Grabill Hardware burned down in a spectacular pre-dawn fire. Then, less than a month later, two other businesses on the same block, Napa and Grabill Radiator also burned. All the while the snows came down. It snowed and snowed, and the temperatures were record breaking, bitterly cold.

can't p. 164

It was one of those years! Filled with excitement, enthusiasm, and a will to stand out and be strong. Glance through these pages, will you remember all those times?

Homecoming, the hard work and group participation of decorating the floats, the crowning of the queen. The fall and spring play that so many people worked so hard to put on for our entertainment. The class tourney that brings so many of us together for the competition, the excitement of just having fun. The Prom, with the thoughts of soft music, and just a chance to get out and have a little fun on a special evening. Last of all Graduation, which brings sad and happy feelings.

And so you yourself can step up one more step to reach the top of success.

Starting Again, A Sense Of Coming Home!

September 2, 1976
7:45-11:20

As I walked into the school I noticed many things, old and new. It was as if all my senses were alerted -- nothing escaped my attention and I wanted to take everything in, finding what had improved or worsened, who were newcomers, what had changed.

I had to smile as I watched the 7th graders walking timidly through the East Lobby doors. It was such a new experience for them! And hard to imagine that someday they too would be seniors.

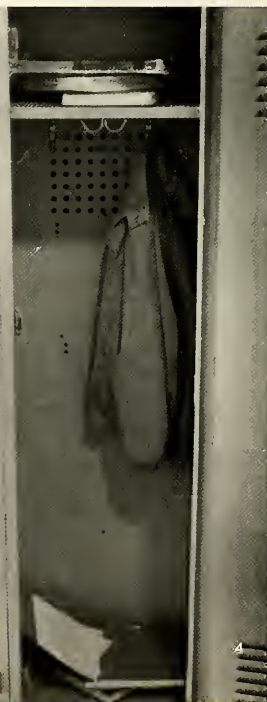

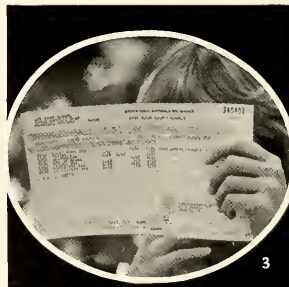

This school season brought new techniques in our system, new classes with new faculty members to teach them. Senior pictures are available now. Also, afternoon TA room is now obsolete--much to the relief of many.

All in all, with the different and familiar things, I felt a slight sense of homecoming. It was sort of nice to be back, for just one more year, anyway.

1. First day as a senior.
2. It's confusing again.
3. PAY, according to class.
4. No longer empty.

Good To Be Back Home!

This year's Homecoming was a success for many reasons, one of which was our victory over the opposing team! The mighty Lions defeated Garrett in an action-filled game 27 to 0.

At half-time, excitement continued with the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and the parade of floats.

Long Hours And . . .

Everyone will remember Boy Wanted, the Senior High Drama Club's fall production, especially those who worked on it--the standing ovations; the long hours of building sets; bouncing Barb Daily all over the floor. It was a fun show for its audiences. Many people had to be turned away because there were no tickets left. Success and memories . . .

1. Dan Kissell played "Harold" the run-away who hides out in the all girls' school.
2. Lori Morgan "stole" the show with her portrayal of "Cynthia" who was insecure.
3. Karen Hajmasy played "Nancy" the nice girl next door.
4. Tony Wittwer and Crysti Weil-

- baker were the engaged couple who have their own problems.
5. Dale Rennecker played "Fred" who was Harold's side kick.
6. Karen McCormack and Mike Overmyer played Harold's emotional parents. The school's headmistress looks on in dismay!
7. Randy Poisel helped out again by playing Nancy's father.
8. Barb Daily played a "jocky" roommate who loved to exercise.
9. As character actors go, Darrell

Standing Ovation!!!

Hankey is among the best; he played Mr. Flynn, the math teacher.

10. Another of Crysti's great expressions.
11. Nancy's mother was played by Connie Sharp, who is always terrific.
12. Lisa Campbell played Headmistress Drake, the authority figure, and Kim Cowell was the girls' king house mother.
13. Poor Harold has hurt himself, and now he must contend with onlookers.

14. How could any one cope with such shenanigans?
15. All comedies end happily for everyone---this was no exception!
16. Sherry Beck played "Miss Francis," the arrogant Home Ec. teacher, who tries to "con" innocent "Linda," played by Vicki Moore.
17. One last look at Harold and Nancy: "Ooo! The agony of it all . . .

Performances And Crew's

This was a good year for the members of the Senior High Drama Club. In the fall the successful BOY WANTED was presented; in the spring, a relevant play about parents and teens and schools and teachers was given in the gym. The play school was called HERE

AND NOW. Exciting performances were turned in by all cast members. Dr. Yost, the superintendent of schools, asked that portions of the play or even the whole play be given before teacher orientation or at different human relations type activities during the following school year. The play had a powerful theme, realistic situations, and a message for every member of the audience. Mr. Stover, who directed, received fantastic help from Barb Daily, who student directed the play.

12. Barbara Bunch played Dodie, "a fat freak." Barb is a newcomer to the Leo stage. Her performance was heart rendering and believable. Many felt she gave the best performance in the play.

Work Set Traditions!!

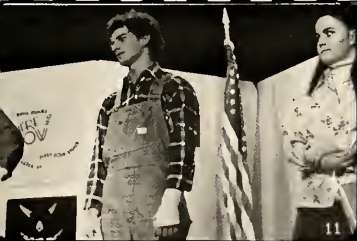

1. Daniel Kissell gave his usual excellent performance. This time he was a skeptical parent.
2. Dee Dee Fett played an abrasive social misfit named Kim.
3. David Grieger played Sheb, the class clown.
4. Pam Lantz was Jane (Joan, June?) a shy insecure freshman and Diane Hankey was a realistic Vicki, who had to decide how far to go.
5. Terri Carnahan and David

Martin played Clair and Tony. Clair was a dominating parent type, and Tony was a school drop-out.

6. Sue Miller, playing an English teacher, stepped in at the last minute to replace veteran Connie Sharp who was ill.
7. The understanding parent was played by Lisa Campbell, who had appeared in several Leo productions. As always, she was superb.
8. Darrell Hankey and Robbie Robbins played the sneering intellectual and the All-American "jock".

9. Lori Morgan, a drama club regular, played the student director. Sharon Graber was an assistant and so was Doug Sanford.
10. Poised and assured Tony Wittwer played the group leader. Here he tries to mollify an upset Stu.
11. Here Robbie Robbins reacts to another character. Standing away is Barb Bunch who looks as wary as Robbie.

Footsteps Of Passing Time

May 27, 1977
8:00-3:20

As I was walking out of the school, I felt as if a tremendous amount of weight had been lifted from my shoulders and pushed into my past. The relief of all the last tests taken, my courses being closed out- I breathed a deep sigh, and shut my now empty locker for the last time. Walking down the abandoned hallway I heard echos of my voice drowning in all the other voices and footsteps at passing time. I walked past my favorite classrooms, where all my worrying and last minute cramming had taken place, passed the cafeteria and its debatable meals. I walked passed the concession stand and turned around to buy my last Marathon and immediately felt guilty! I opened the East Lobby doors and smiled at the telephone, remembering all the money I lost in the past 6 years. Then as I walked out into the sunshine, I took another deep breath, turned around to look for one last symbolic time and stepped forward into my future.

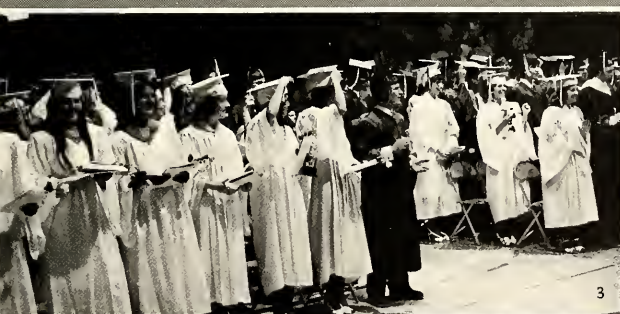

1. Kenny Steury earns a brownie point. 2. Mr. Gabet tells it like it is. 3. It's State Rd. 1, through Leo. 4. Leo High School. 5. What you been up to, Rob? 6. Randy gives a look of wonder.

Memories Of Leo High School

May 27, 1977 at 7:30, 105 anxious and nervous seniors stepped into the crowded and very warm gym, with all the memories of Leo High School at hand. After the Star Spangled Banner was played and all were seated, Deb Roth followed with the invocation.

1. Salutatorian-April Thomas
2. Valedictorian-Gwen Amstutz
3. Pronounced graduates of 77.
4. April Thomas, Deb Roth, Rev.
Tillman Amstutz, Mr. Jones S. Dr.
Daryl R. Yost

The Hassle And

All quieted as the Salutatory Address was given by April Thomas. As things went along smoothly, so did the song "Memories" which brought back all those special moments and put tears in the eyes. Rev. Tillman Amstutz presented the Raccalaurate message and was followed by the Lee High School Band. The music played softly and the seniors awaited the big moment of receiving diplomas.

Then The Tassel!

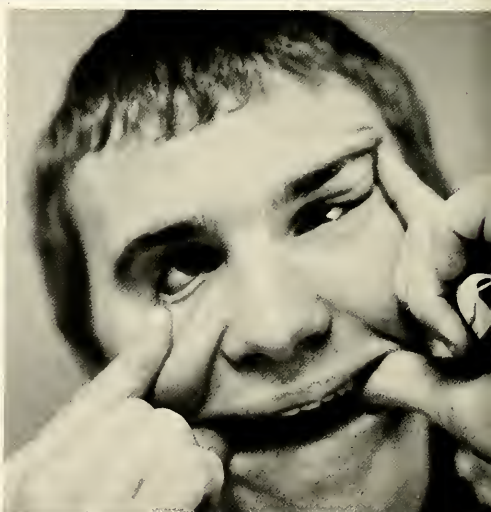

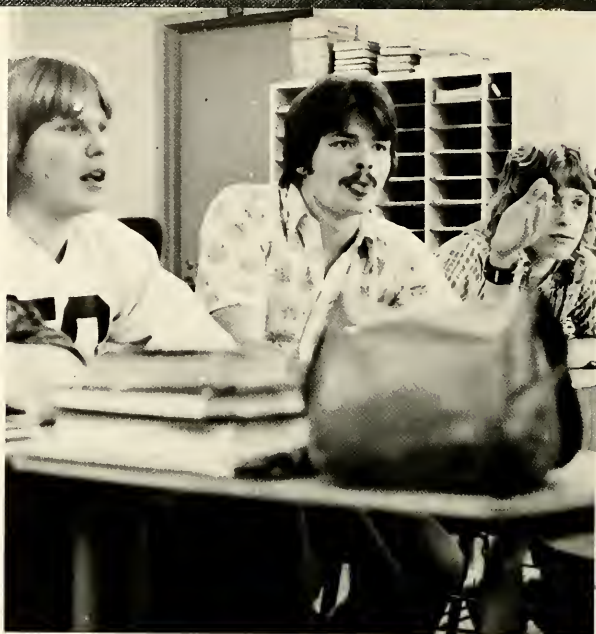

It seemed like a good time to go back for one more time to remember all those Basketball games and tournaments that were played, all the teachers, and class rooms, the excitement in finishing and all moments shared with one another.

The music faded out and a vision of Gwen Arnstutz is seen giving the Valedictory Address. Mr. Jones announced class honors and the presentation of diplomas were given by Robert W. Beechower. Mike Overmyer read the class poem entitled "Look to this Day". The passing of the Torch was followed by the seniors' overwhelming joy to be free. The closing thoughts were given by Dr. Daryl R. Yost. Kent Yost gave the benediction and all 165 alumni stepped out of the warm and crowded gym. Proud to be a Leo graduate.

Hey! we're SENIORS!
We finally made it through all those years of anticipation. And now those years hold special memories: of parties and trips, and after school joy rides; of games where we thrilled til the final seconds over narrow losses, and the sweet victories where our
"small country school" teams overpowered or outplayed the "big city schools", of new friends left behind as we passed through those most difficult years of maturing.
There's now little enough time left to bemoan homework or detention---and it feels a little sad. But there are new and broader challenges down the road.

class of '77

On March 19 and 20, forty-one seniors, Mr. Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Gabet set out to conquer the slopes of Cannonsburg, Michigan. And conquer they did! Eyeing the threatening slopes for the first time, the busload of apprehensive skiers burst forth with such memorable remarks as "Never!" and "You've got to be kidding!" After the two days of skiing most had mastered the art of using tow ropes and avoiding mogles (or at least knowing what they were).

The general feeling seemed to include comradeship, excitement, and a large amount of shared aches and bruises. If these seniors can excel in life as bravely as they did on the slopes the class of '77 will go far!

Always remembered are the special times with close friends that make the year complete. These next twenty pages are dedicated to friends and times and everything that goes into the nine months of a year. Times like the gong show, the Girl's Basketball team which advanced to the Semi-State finals, that wonderful weather which caused so many school closings and other unforgettable happenings.

Sit back and enjoy the faces, they're special memories of a very memorable year.

TEACHERS-what are they? To some it's that big guy down the hall who ironically gets smaller and smarter as his students get taller and older. And teachers are always around. They make you work, really work. They make you think. They nag you, they push you, they sit on you, they love you. They never give up on you til you've given your best. And when school's over for you, the faculty will still be there. They'll be working with students, making them read and write and tear apart engines and frogs and seams, still typing and painting and singing---learning to live with the world ahead.

Need Help?

Who is it that keeps a normal day at school normal? And who is it that puts us back on the right track when we stray from the "the path of righteousness"? And who is it that is always there when we need help? Who else could it be but, yes, our very own paraprofessionals. This dedicated crew of women strive to create a better atmosphere for learning. It is beyond anyone's imagination to try and think of what a average day of school would be like without the aid and guidance of our paraprofessionals. So, as a tribute to all the hard work they do, we say thank-you!

Special friends, ball games, plays, band contests, little 500's, dances and skating parties---each is a part of our life at Leo High School. But at the heart of it all, school is the classroom. Here it is that we spend seven hours each day acquiring the experience and skills we'll use most when we leave. For ten years from now, striking out in the 2nd inning won't matter nearly as much as knowing how many horses Custer took with him to Little Big Horn, nor that $C=5/9$ (F-39). It's the class work after all that helps in the later years.

Play Instruments Or Oil Paint

Talent is plentiful at Leo High. Whether one plays an instrument or oil paints, there are many ways to express and display the various talents at all times.

The choir and band went to contest and both received high honors.

Display cases were filled with art students' work throughout the year.

Those are just a few of the ways that talent was displayed in the '76-'77 season.

1. The Silent Symphony.
2. Little Robbie Robbins go blow your horn.

3. Lorene Lloyd records the junior class on the class tourney trophy.
4. Bob McKinley applies the finishing touches with care.

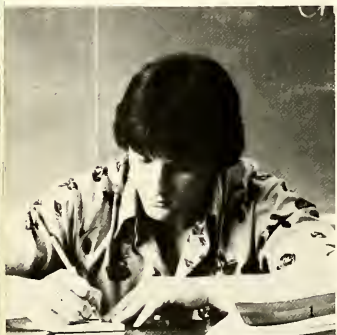

Español Deutsch and Français

Foreign language proved to be a challenge once again. While most struggled to get through their "native" English class, some brave people attempted to learn a second language. French, German, and Spanish were offered to grades 9-12.

1. Exchange students:
Netherlands, Anita T'sas:
South America, Luis Laos,
Cecilia Ortiz, Javier Pinto.
2. German advertising.
3. Miss Carr prepares for a big plunge into Spanish.
4. Do all French people have moustaches?

HFR = Health And Success

Sweats, the common cold, laps, push-ups, and driving lead to:

Trophies, "A's", driver's licenses, presidential patches, and physical fitness.

1. No passing zone.
2. Leo's own Jimmy Connors.
3. "NEWS FLASH!": Enrollment of girls in HFR breaks Leo record. Here's proof!
4. Mr. Lake fascinates his class with a chalky eraser.

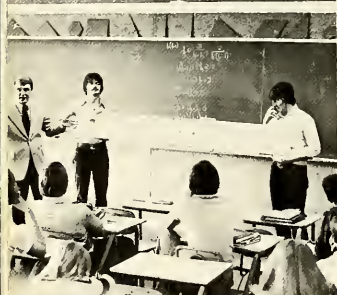

English "Swings"

The selection of courses in the English department was greater this year than any other. Many tried their skill at Theatre Arts and T.V. Production, along with the normal speech and grammar classes.

1. Excedrin headache number 88,911.
2. Mr. "A" prepares papers for the round file.
3. Hall patrol "ain't what it used to be."

Does Math Make "Cents"?

After taking 7th and 8th grade math, algebra 1 and 2, trigonometry, and geometry, the metric system seemed to be an enormous change in things already learned.

But, is it that different really? Why, I've known for YEARS how many "cents" I need for the bubble gum machine!

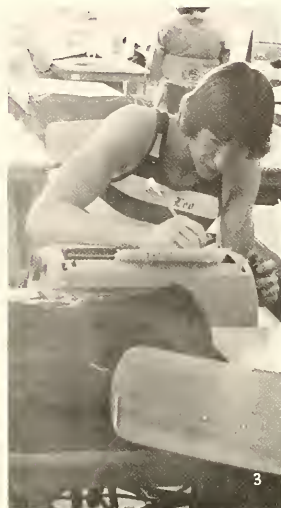

1. Mr. Steinhauser carries a heavy load.
2. The giant slide ruler never ceases to amaze.
3. Let's hear it for math!
4. Mrs. Kneubuhler listen apprehensively.

Practical Arts In Action

The guys in the shop department built many nice sheds again this year. Good Job! Home Economics had a Spring fashion show which was a success. In Mrs. Mumma's classes, Marcia Tharp, Linda Klea, Lorene Lloyd, and Jennifer Farnsworth won achievement awards. Many excelled and are to be congratulated. Practical Arts are well-named, as they all will be useful in our futures.

1. Business in action.
2. Randy Butt puts things to scale.
3. Kenny Steury SCRUBS his typing paper.
4. Is this going to prove to be too much for Lane Jacquay to handle?

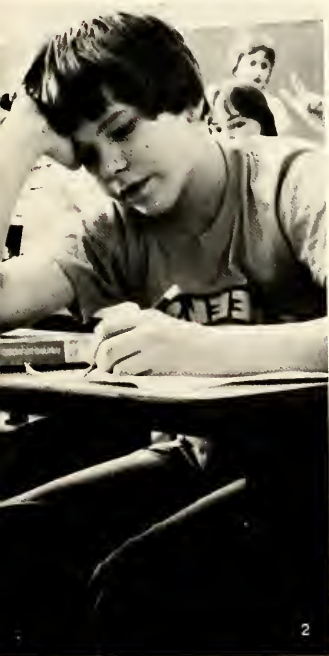

Expanding Minds With Science

The Science Department at Leo High School offers a variety of classes which are constantly expanding the minds of its students, relating concepts to daily life.

1. "But, I thought . . ."
2. Dan Kissel Proudly accepts the ultimate pass.
3. Mr. Noyer and Mr. Hartung check out the situation.
4. Fill it up.

The Past And The Future

1. Tom Morrical and Robert Burns are getting down to the basics.
2. Scott Garside shows pure 7th grade enthusiasm.
3. Mr. Schneider maps it out for his students.
4. The studious crowd.

Combined past knowledge and ideas about the future are what made the History Department interesting.

Extensive research on our country's most recognized documents kept the students on their toes. The added treat was the Presidential election which was closely followed by many in this department.

Taking pictures, shelving books and magazines, playing a game of chess or taking an exotic trip to Florida to study underwater life are just a few of the activities that many of our club members busy themselves with. Some clubs meet for pleasure, others work for the school, musical clubs entertain and still others are educational. Even though times for meeting seem limited to project periods all survived.

Touchdown!!! Shoot for Two!!! and Home Run!!! Fans cry out these cheers to their favorite players on the football field, basketball court and baseball diamond. They thrill as they watch the final seconds of each game tick by taking their eyes off the games only for such things as 3rd quarter cokes and halftime drill squad routines. These fans were rarely disappointed at Leo's games this year with the performances.

Woodlan Defeated!

Well, it only took 9 years, but Leo finally beat Woodlan in Football.

The Lions scored with two minutes left in the game for a 20-13 victory over the host Warriors, handing Woodlan its fourth loss of the season.

Leo and Woodlan were tied 7-7, going into the fourth quarter. Both teams had scored in the second quarter. Leo scored first in the final period, senior Bruce Cole scoring his second touchdown of the game on the eight-yard run.

Dan Amstutz brought the Woodlan homecoming crowd back to life with his second touchdown with about four minutes left in the game. But Leo drove right back down into Woodlan's territory, to the 21-yard line, where quarter back Tony Hudson threw a touchdown pass to Herb Maier for the Lion's lead again. The Lions killed the Warrior's final threat on a pass interception in the final moments of the game. IT WAS LEO'S FIRST WIN EVER OVER WOODLAN!

Lions Capture ACAC Crown

The High School Girls Volleyball team had a great season this year. They had a good showing in both of the tournaments they participated in. The girls were victorious in the ACAC Tourney, and were the runner-ups in a tough Sectional, where they were defeated by Concordia, the state runner-up.

The victory over all the ACAC schools was special to everyone. This is the first time that Leo, under Coach Baumgartner, won the ACAC. The girls finished their season with an 8-0 ACAC record and a 23-3 overall record. With 5 returning starters and a lot of strong underclassmen, Leo should do even better next year than they did this year.

The Lions started off their season without any returning starters but Coach Butt says "It's good experience for the guys." The team lost 5 out of 12 games, losing by 3 points or less in all of them. The highlights of the season were the County Tourney, where we lost in the finals against Carroll, beating Adam Central, Nor-well, New Haven, and Heritage. The Lions defeated Garrett in the Sectionals 69 to 67, but in the second game the Lions were defeated by DeKalb 66 to 60. Lettermen Are Returning

The cross country team experienced moderate success this season as we finished fourth in the AC-AC meet. The team was led by Junior Curtis Liechty who set a new school record of 12:55 for 2 1/2 miles and was all conference placing fourth. Next year it looks promising as all lettermen are returning.

2. Audie Burger looks mighty determined.
3. Steve Smith and Gene Miller do some warm-ups before the meet.
4. Gene Miller displays his outstanding will power.

Leo Girls Set New Record

The 1977 girls basketball team had an excellent season. The girls set a new mark in Leo history by going all the way to semi-state finals. Three juniors, Lori Augustyniak, Sara Crabill and Sue Miller were selected to the ACAC conference team along with many tournament honors. Good Luck next year!

Leo, now 11-3 on the season, disposed of a game but outclassed Snider team to Monday's title game before some 600 fans on the Panthers' home court, 50-40. Leo had 18 in the victory while Snider contributed 15 and Miller 11. Leo's offense hit 10 of 36 shots for 27.8 per cent. Another major difference in the two teams.

By the end of the third quarter Leo had upped its margin in 12 at 41-29 and then it was just a question of time. The Lions enjoyed their biggest lead at 14 points, 45-31, when Butler began to substitute. Snider, with Cynthia Jackson hitting a bucket and Kareo Turner two, got the margin down nine at one time before Butler went back to his starters to set it up.

For the three games needed to win the tournament, Leo scored 137 points and Snider 120. Leo's all-juniors team, led by Laura Augustyniak, Miller trio had with Miller getting 40 and Snider 30.

played remarkable cross-court pass along with their precise outside shooting. The Leo trio was once again in a tight numbers with the Lions, but the way with 30 points for her night work reported in with 17 and we expected it.

"We act like jocks on the court but the court were ladies," boasted the three Leo basketball players. "That sort of our motto," Miller added. The second quarter brought no relief for the Patriots as the Lions drafted in new more from the field and Butler added one from the free throw line to give the Lions a 17-point halftime lead.

As the Patriots were struggling with their 15 per cent shooting average in the first half the Lions also had their own problems in the personal foul area. Leo collected 12 fouls by halftime with Crabb and Julie Meinering holding their apiece. "I was worried," comment Coach Butler about the foul situation knew we were in foul trouble and it would have had to go to the bench, would have been in trouble."

Call it luck but somehow Butler as his squad managed to salvage the main players, even though Jeanne Little and Julie Meinering fouled out early. See LIONS, Page this same Heritage was really in the title game Saturday.

Again Leo came up with some outstanding shooting Saturday, hitting 58 of 124 shots in the two games for a mighty respectable 46 per cent.

Once again it was Leo's front line of doing most of the damage as this trio accounted for 99 of Leo's 124 points. But to be sure, they got help.

But key baskets in both games and year, by defeating Westview in the open-er, SS-40.

Leo ball club seems to get tougher every week. It spluttered a bit at times during the Sectional Tournament, but was a well-oiled machine Saturday.

The Semistate, also at first And went six-for-seven from the floor against Eastside to have more than a little to do with the outcome. And the fifth starter, freshman didn't score, but handled the ball well and is a real scrapper on defense for the Lions. And then there was a very fine pinch performance by... came off the bench to hit five of eight shots. In short, it was a team effort.

The final game was close for a very from a 4-4 deadlock the first

Leo's Laura Augustyniak enjoyed a day basketball players usually can only dream of. In the Semistate Semifinals, the junior ball of fire tossed in 33 points. In the final, Augustyniak came back with 30 more but it wasn't quite enough to boost the Lions into the State finals. -Staff photo by Dean Musser

"Excellent Job," Says Coach Kerbel!

"We had a very successful season this year, 6 out of 13 wrestlers were new and they did an excellent job," says Coach Kerbel. It was the second year of Wrestling for the Lions & each weight class was filled without forfeiting a meet. The team placed fourth in the Conference. Jon Stuckey and Bill Hicks placed second in the Sectional and went to the Regionals. Bill Hicks also had the most pins with 6, Glen Phillips was the most improved wrestler & David Grieger was selected honorary captain. There were 12 lettermen this year, with only 5 lettermen returning next year. The Lion's record was 4 & 5.

1. Coaches Kerbel and Dubach anxiously await the outcome.
2. There's two more for the Lions.
3. Mike Overmyer tries to pin an opponent.

Optional Team Ends Perfectly

The girls gymnastics optional team had a perfect season this year. They ended their season with an 11-0 record. The intermediate team ended with a 7-4 record and the beginning girls finished with a 4-7 record. The All Conference team consisted of Sheila Burger, Renee Johnson, Cheryl Ridderheim, Jil Schoeff, Chris Thomas, and Melinda Yockey. The Lions were very well represented in the Sectionals with Nancy Herendeen, Chris Thomas, and Jil Schoeff winning first place ribbons. Jil completed her season by winning first place in Regional competition and ending up in the State finals with her bar routine. The team should do quite well next year, but they will definitely miss Sheila Burger, the only senior on the squad.

Sore Muscles

The Leo Girl's Track Team ended their season with a 9-3 record. The girls finished second in the conference meet after winning it the two previous years. The girls had it rough some days as they had to run in freezing rain, push the bus downtown when it stalled, and had their share of injuries. Many individuals still ended up breaking records. Those being: Sheila Burger-80 yd. hurdles, Lisa Herman-mile, Julie Meinerding-440 yd. dash, Tammy Doctor-220 yd. dash, Jean-nie Little-Softball throw, Lori Augustyniak-Long jump, Bonnie Klopfenstein, Deb Bryan, Sherry Schaefer and Tammy Doctor-880 relay.

Sectional winner was Sue Miller in the 880 and High jump and she also went to regionals. The team will be losing a few tough seniors, but the underclassmen should come back and boost Leo to a victorious season next year.

1. Lori Bushe after she has finished the 440 yd. dash.

Their pitching was very good from two juniors, Bob Norton and Chuck Gee. Dean Eckland, a junior, was their third pitcher for relief and sometimes starter. The pitcher's ERA was great this year. Gee .98, Norton 1.87, and Eckland 1.61. Their hitting was led by juniors Gary Platt (.375) and Glen Gerke (.407). Gary Platt and junior Don Carey led in RBI's, 17 and 14. Though Many Hardships

There are scenes of snowmobiling and cross country skiing and snowmen, of fire places roaring and snow drifts several feet high, roads closed and cars buried in ditches. But as the camera pans back across the school all is still and white. No school. The snow and cold and fuel shortages have taken their toll. Though many hardships, including industry shut-downs and business closings resulted from the worst winter in Indiana's history, students (and 1 or 2 faculty) were delighted. For there was also a record number of snow days, 13 in all, two and a half times the old record of 5. And still it snowed.

When school was in session, it was in 60° rooms because of the fuel shortage. Many basketball games were cancelled due to the snow but not the senior ski trip to Cannonsburg. "Think Snow," they said, and think they did. Snow and winter fun for a weekend made special memories for the seniors.

There were some things the snow didn't affect, however. It was the year of the ERA in athletics. The girls basketball team had its own state tourney and Leo's girls won the Regional title, before losing the title game of the Semi-State. Girls' athletics brought home many ribbons and trophies in all areas this year, deserving the pride we felt for them. The old barriers went down, replaced by new achievements. And so closes the snow scene, to the pitter patter of little flakes lightly tapping the window pane, and the ground, and the trees, and the housetops and the little bunnies, and the big gorillas, and everything else is gone and all is w-h-i-t-e . . .

When Act V finally came, it was Spring, and the snow finally left. It rained and rained, and rained . . . and the season of new things was on us. Enter actors and actresses, now dressed in white and blue jean painter pants, rocker bottom shoes, and shoes that tie around the ankles for girls. These are the fashions that made us, us.

Many of the students had turned golden brown about this time, the result of their Spring break in the Sunshine State. Those who couldn't make it to Daytona got away to the exciting sounds of the "Kiss" concert or "A Star Is Born".

A change of scene brings us to the Class Tourney, where the tug-of-war literally pulls whole classes together. For the second consecutive year the class of '78 swept away the lovely tin can trophy. Lights dim, action slows, candles set the mood for the next scene where couples are dining and dancing at the Black Rose. It's the Jr.-Sr. Prom, the romantic highlight of the Spring scene.

And as no Act would be complete without its light comedy, so too does Spring appear accompanied by the pranks and high jinks of nearly everyone. Even the slapstick routines of water balloon-bombings and squirt guns seemed almost excusable relief to the two weeks of 90° temperatures.

The seniors called for a "senior-skip" day which was rather successful, as was the mass detention held following the day of fun. They challenged the underclassmen to uphold their newly initiated tradition.

The final Act, and then the action slows to final tests, final concerts, last day parties and partings. Some tears. Some relief. Some numbness. All finality for the seniors. Lockers are stripped bare, books returned, memories and pictures carefully tucked away. The last day is here. Underclassmen have the summer to look forward to and enjoy, knowing school will stay the same, waiting for them to return in the fall. But for the seniors it's different. They look to the future now and no longer to the past. Life will seem different for them without all these school happenings and precious memories. But they will walk out into the sunset, making new memories with jobs, or college, or marriage, to live happily ever after, we hope. And the narrator fades out and music and colors fill the screen, then slowly fades, too. The curtain closes, leaving all the memories of "Scenes of '77" behind.

You are a little weird at times but,
who isn't I mean really. Stay sweet cause under all that silliness there is a great
guy. Find some girl to be your girlfriend yo I love you
